SECTION A

1. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: [9 × 1=9]

There was another Indian with the Professor and his troupe who took no part in the strongman acts but spent the entire time digging a shallow trench about ten feet long and two or three feet wide. By the time Professor had finished his act, this trench had been filled with red-hot coals from the cook-house. There was no funny business about this fire-trench either - we gathered around it and the heat from it was intense. This Indian, rather an elderly gentleman, then stood at one end of the trench, splashed water from a nearby bucket over his bare feet, and then proceeded to walk over the red-hot coals along the whole length of the trench. It was an incredible spectacle - we could see the low flames from the red-hot coals licking around his bare feet as he slowly walked to the end of the trench. When he reached it, as if not satisfied, he turned around and walked back the same way. He then squatted down on the ground, gestured to his feet, and invited us all to inspect them. We did, and there was not so much as a blister anywhere to be seen. I had pushed forward through the crowd to get a closer look at this amazing character's feet, and as I knelt down beside him I felt something thrust into my hand. It was a handkerchief, and it was then that I recognised him.

He had looked at me once, briefly, as he passed the handkerchief to me, but when I went to speak to him he looked away again so I kept my mouth shut. If he wanted to pretend that he didn't understand English then, that was all right by me. Obviously it amused him to listen to the comments of the admiring crowd gathered around him. The professor by now had recovered from his encounter with the five-ton truck and he came over to say in halting English that the fire-walker would take a volunteer with him across the fire-trench. This, of course, produced a big laugh, but I didn't join in. I knew then that I was going across the fire-trench, although the very thought of it made me go ice cold with fear.

Questions:

- i) What size was the trench? [1]

Ans. The size of the trench was ten feet long and two or three feet wide.

- ii) What did the elderly person do before walking over the red-hot coals? [1]

Ans. The elderly person stood at one end of the trench, splashed water from a nearby bucket over his bare feet before walking over the coals.

- iii) What harm was caused to the elderly gentleman by this action? [1]

Ans. No harm was caused to the elderly gentleman.

- iv) When did the narrator recognise the man? [1]

Ans. The narrator recognised the gentleman when he saw the handkerchief that he gave to him.

- v) What did the crowd do to amuse the man? [1]

Ans. The comments of admiration from the crowd amused the man.

2. Read the following passage carefully and choose the correct answer: [6 × 1 = 6]

For three days Inspector Robinson had been completely in the dark. A man had been found unconscious in the car park of the Swan Hotel. He had been robbed and his car had been stolen. The police had no idea of his identity until at last the man was able to tell them, who he was and what had happened. He was also able to give them a description of the man, which the police sent to all the newspapers.

The next day Inspector Robinson got a message to say that the man had been Seen in a small sea-side town. Inspector Robinson immediately went there. When he reached the police-station, the inspector in charge had a second message for him. The owner of a small restaurant on the seafront had just telephoned. According to him, a person like the wanted man was having dinner in his restaurant.

The police at once rushed round to the restaurant. Two policemen stayed outside the front entrance, while Inspector Robinson and another man entered through the kitchen. Very excited, the owner of the restaurant showed Inspector Robinson the man he had been watching. He was sitting at a corner table, reading a newspaper. Without doubt it was the right man.

Inspector Robinson did not want to disturb the other people in the restaurant. He let the man finish his meal. Then, as he left the restaurant, Inspector Robinson followed him into the street and arrested him.

Miserable Condition of City Hospital
(By- Gopal)

Kota, March 22nd, 2023. The purpose of hospitals is to provide health facilities in the hygienic and disinfected environment. Some of the government hospitals instead of relieving people from diseases are adding more agony to the patients due to the unhygienic and unsanitary conditions which causes unbearable smell that usually found in wards and rooms. In current situation due to Covid19 most of the hospitals have no protective kits for pure treatment. Government is failed in providing them proper equipment because of some of corrupt employees who have only personal interest. Health department and city administration must take this issue seriously and should take proper action immediately for the betterment of the hospital and patients. Responsible from cleaner to doctor, all should be taught or pressurised to follow their duties with punctuality and honesty.

Translate the following passage into Hindi: .

'When I arrived there was no one in sight but a girl of about twelve. Her eyes were covered with a bandage and she was being led carefully between the flower-beds by a little boy, who was about four years younger. She stopped, and it looked like she asked him who had come. He seemed to be describing me to her. Then they passed on.

Miss Beam was all that I had expected - middle aged, full authority, yet kind and understanding. Her hair was beginning to turn grey, and she had the kind of plump figure that is likely to be comforting to a homesick child. I asked her some questions about her teaching methods, which I had heard were simple.'

- Ans. जब मैं पहुंचा तो वहां बारह साल की एक लड़की के अलावा कोई नजर नहीं आया। उसकी आँखें एक पट्टी से ढकी हुई थीं और उसे फूलों की क्यारियों के बीच सावधानी से एक छोटा लड़का ले जा रहा था जो उससे लगभग 4 साल छोटा था। वह रुक गई, और ऐसा लगा जैसे उसने उससे पूछा कि कौन आया था। ऐसा लग रहा था कि वह मुझे उसके बारे में बता रहा है। फिर वे आगे बढ़ गए।
मिस बीम वह सब थी जिसकी मैंने अपेक्षा की थी – मध्यम आयु, पूर्ण अधिकार, फिर भी दयालु और समझदार। उसके बाल सफेद होने लगे थे, और उसका शरीर मोटा था जो एक घर की याद आ रहे बच्चे को दिलासा दे सकता है। मैंने उनसे उनकी शिक्षण विधियों के बारे में कुछ प्रश्न पूछे, जो मैंने सुना था कि वे सरल थे।

9. Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: [6 × 1 = 6]

'I used every way I knew to overcome this fear, but it held me firmly in its grip. Finally, one October, I decided to get an instructor and learn to swim. I went to a pool and practiced ' five days a week, an hour each day. The instructor put a belt around me. A rope attached to the belt went through a pulley that ran on an overhead cable. He held on to the end of the rope, and we went back and forth, back and forth across the pool, hour after hour, day after day, week after week. On each trip across the pool a bit of the panic seized me. Each time the instructor relaxed his hold on the rope and I went under, some of the old terror returned and my legs froze. It was three months before the tension began to slack. Then he taught me to put my face under water and exhale and to raise my nose and inhale. I repeated the exercise hundreds of times. Bit by bit I shed part of the panic that seized me when my head went underwater.

Questions:

12. Explain anyone of the following stanzas with reference to context:

[1 × 6 = 6]

(i) 'Fishermen in the cold sea
would not harm whales
and the man gathering salt would look at his hurt hands.'

Ans. These lines are taken from the poem 'Keeping Quiet' written by Pablo Neruda. This poem talks about introspection. In the above lines the poet tells us that we all must count one to twelve i.e. introspect and look into our inner selves. This will create peaceful environment and no destruction will take place anywhere on the earth. The poet uses metaphor in the form of whales and man gathering salt. No marine creatures will be destroyed and human being will get respite from self destruction if we all introspect.

(ii) "Aunt Jennifer's tigers prance across a screen,
Bright topaz denizens of a world of green.
They do not fear the men beneath the tree;
They pace in sleek chivalric certainty."

Ans. These lines have been taken from the poem 'Aunt Jennifer's Tigers' written by Adrienne Rich. The theme of the poem is patriarchal society i.e. male dominated society. In this poem Aunt Jennifer represents a victim of patriarchal society and she is embroidering tigers on her panel. It is her inner vibrant life to live a life like a tiger. The tigers that she embroiders are Bright yellow coloured. They are moving fearlessly and unscared of the male hunters. They are walking in style with confidence. This is the type of life which Aunt Jennifer wants to live i.e. a life full of courage, confidence and elegance.

13. Answer the following questions in about 80 words: [1 × 4 = 4]

(i) What theme has been taken by the poet in 'An Elementary School Classroom in a Slum'?

Ans. In the poem 'An Elementary school classroom is a slum', the poet Stephen Spender concentrates on the theme of Social injustice and Class inequalities. The poet describes the plight of school children in a slum school. These poor, deprived and impoverished children live in dirty, unhealthy conditions. They are given a glimpse of wonderful world outside. But the world they see from the window of the classroom is a narrow street sealed in by a gloomy sky. They cannot think beyond the four walls of their dark holes. Their lot can be improved if Governor, teachers, educators, inspectors and visitors work and take them out of their slums.

OR

(ii) Write a short summary of 'My Mother at Sixty-six'

Ans. The poem 'My mother at Sixty-six' conveys the idea that ageing is a process which envelopes one and all sooner or later. The poem examines the theme of advancing age and fear of loss and separation. The poet is travelling to Cochin with her old aged mother. The mother is dozing with mouth open. Her corpse like face and ashen face bring thoughts of her eventual death. This thought pained her and she looked outside at the world which was in contrast to that inside the car. She saw merry children spilling and young trees sprinting representing spontaneous flow of life outside in contrast to stillness in the car. She also compares her mother to late winter's moon. When the poet reached the airport she had the fear again. She bid her old mother good-bye, smiling all the time in vain to hide her childhood fear.

14. Answer the following questions in 20-25 words: [2 × 2 = 4]

(i) 'Of twisted bones,' what does this symbolize? (An Elementary School Classroom in a Slum)

Ans. 'Of twisted bones' symbolize the weak, malnourished and diseased condition of the boy sitting inside the slum classroom who had inherited the disease.

(ii) What beautiful things are depicted in the poem 'A Thing of Beauty'?

Ans. In the poem 'A Thing of Beauty', the poet John Keats depicts beauty in the form of nature i.e Sun, moon, trees old and young, daffodils, clear rills and beautiful musk rose flowers in the middle of the forest.

15. Answer the following questions in about 80 words: [1 × 4 = 4]

(i) How was the hundredth tiger arranged for the Maharaja's target? (The tiger king)

Ans. the tiger king had managed to kill 99 tigers. When the hundredth tiger was not to be found the king threatened his Dewan and told him to double the taxes of the villagers. The Dewan had sleepless nights. Later, the Dewan had brought a tiger from the People's Park in Madras and kept it hidden in his house. When the Maharaja threatened him with dire consequences he understood that the only way to save himself was to 'plant' a tiger for the kill. So he and his aged wife dragged the tiger to the forest where the king was hunting.

(i) How did Mr. Lamb motivate Derry? (On the face of It)

Ans. Mr. Lamb's encounter with Derry was like a magical act as was able to transform Derry into a positive human being. His long conversation with Mr. Lamb helped Derry to overcome his inferiority complex. He also told him not to be scared of others and others will not be scared of him. He told him handsome is as handsome does. Mr. Lamb advised him not to care about the comments made by others. Hence, Derry now no longer cared about his burned face or looks. He was more concerned about what he thought and felt, and what he wanted to hear and see.
